Headache Neurologist

The Department of Neurology at Mayo Clinic in Jacksonville, Florida is seeking a Neurologist with expertise in headache medicine to join our practice.

The Headache Medicine Division is looking for a subspecialty-trained physician who is board certified in Neurology and board certified or board eligible in Headache Medicine. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to participate in Headache Medicine and Concussion clinical practices, research, and medical education. The physician will provide headache medicine care in the outpatient setting, concussion management in the outpatient setting, and will perform headache medicine procedures such as onabotulinumtoxinA injections and nerve blocks.

Candidates must have strong clinical skills and have a demonstrated track record of academic success in research and medical education. They must also demonstrate strong interpersonal skills and capacity to work collaboratively with a multi-disciplinary team of consultants and support staff. Headache Medicine Division faculty are actively engaged in education of medical students, residents, and headache medicine fellows. Our environment provides rich opportunities for clinical and translational research that are enhanced by established collaborations across Mayo Clinic sites. We are looking for an individual that can bring enthusiasm and fresh ideas to our clinical practice and research team.
